

ERPP Notice and Resource Information

Use this form after the eviction moratorium ends.

Important! Landlords: Fill out page 1 completely and correctly with all the information that you know. Your information and your attorney's information, if you have one, must be included. At the time of service or mailing of the pay or vacate notice to the tenant, you must also send/serve copies of these notices to the local dispute resolution center serving the area where the property is located (see page 2). You should retain proof of service.

Your landlord is asking you to take part in the Eviction Resolution Pilot Program. ⚠ Do not wait. You can get help.

What is the Eviction Resolution Program (ERPP)?

Your county's Superior Court uses this program. ERPP requires landlords to try to reach agreements with tenants about unpaid rent before they can ask for eviction in court. You may be eligible for rent assistance and legal help through the ERPP.

If you participate in the ERPP, your landlord must work with you and a specialist from your local Dispute Resolution Center (DRC). If that solves the problem, great! If not, the DRC will offer free mediation. Mediation is voluntary – it only happens if both sides agree to do it.

You have a right to negotiate a payment plan that works for you.

Why should I participate?

If you get this notice and do not respond or try to reach an agreement, your landlord may file for eviction in court. You can get help from a free lawyer if you are not sure what to do. (See page 2.)

- Rent assistance
- Free mediation
- Free legal help

What is mediation? It is when a trained person (a mediator) helps you solve a problem or reach an agreement with someone else. You can ask for mediation at your local Dispute Resolution Center. Mediators are impartial and help all participants reach resolution.
